

How is their quality judged for both appointment and for promotion? For example are they judged according to the criteria of one of the departments or both. Are the people who judge from a single department or both?

