

When compared with single disciplinary research, does your University encourage or discourage (or neither) interdisciplinary research?

